

Cut along the solid lines, fold along the broken lines, and tape the loose ends down to assemble your adventurous little pilot.

This little pilot exercises his brain's intellectual skill area every time he reads the map and figures out where to land.